A History of Stetson Football

Original 1884 Intramural "Forbes" team that played the "Stetson" team in the first organized football game in the state of Florida. Forbes team was coached by C.B. Rosa (Back Row Center).

The first organized football game in the state of Florida was an intramural contest on Thanksgiving Day in 1894. The team named after university president John Forbes and coached by C.B. Rosa defeated the "Stetson" team coached by Harvey MacQuiston of the English department. The field was created by removing some pine trees in the spot where the Cummings Gymnasium was later built. Due to the uneven ground one team had to run uphill each quarter. The game attracted considerable attention and viewers came from as far as Daytona. After several games local churchmen were shocked by the brutality of the game which seemed antichristian. This led to a three-year suspension of football at Stetson.

On Thanksgiving Day in 1901 football made its return. Stetson met the Florida Agricultural College on the State Fairgrounds in Jacksonville in what has been called Florida's first Bowl game. Stetson won the game 6-0. It is said that Stetson would have scored another touchdown except that a policeman on a horse got in the way. It is also said that Florida Agricultural College would have scored a touchdown had it not been for a tree stump at the edge of the playing field.

In the early days football aroused more interest than any other sport at Stetson, as it did at most universities. In 1903, although Stetson played just two games with a tie and a win, it was considered the state champions. Since the final game of the season was not played George Wilson of the Florida Times-Union said that Stetson had not formally won the championship. Stetson claimed the state title in 1901, 1903, 1905, 1906, 1907, and 1909.

In the spring of 1934 an effort was made to build a $40,000 football stadium on campus. Civil Works Administration (CWA) offered to put up $30,000 of the needed funds. It was assumed that $10,000 of the amount would be needed for materials and all the federal money for that purposed had already been apportioned to other projects on campus. Coach McQuillan and John Stetson Jr. worked diligently to get the stadium. They made drawings that turned into blueprints yet it was not enough. It was hoped that the City of DeLand would eventually lease the stadium and help find a way to cover the $10,000, yet money was hard to come by at that time and the project never came to fruition.

Following the 1934 season and after the failed attempt to get a football stadium built, long time head coach Herb McQuillan announced that he was leaving Stetson to accept a position at Texas A&M. What followed was the biggest coaching controversy in Stetson athletics history. Initially there were 49 applicants for the coaching vacancy. When it was made public that one of the applicants was football star Red Grange, the best known name in the sport at the time, the other 48 hopefuls faded away. At first it seemed that President Allen wanted Grange. yet when it became clear Grange would accept the position, Allen decided that his hiring would put too much stress on athletics, commercialize the University, and draw the school away from its intended purpose and mission. He feared it would impair the relationship between Stetson and the Baptist constituency. The uproar that followed included an unofficial poll by students who voted 100-1 in favor of hiring Grange. Locals and alumni vigorously supported the students' effort, yet President Allen stood firm and Red Grange never came to DeLand.

The bad news was that Grange did not become Stetson's next head coach. The good news was that Brady Cowell filled the opening. Cowell was one of the most beloved coaches ever to work at Stetson. He headed up the football program for nine seasons between 1935 and 1948. One of the biggest victories in program history came on Cowell's watch in 1938. Stetson had played the University of Florida just eight times since 1912 and had fallen behind in enrollment, as well as in football. Stetson traveled to Gainesville, outplayed the Gators and brought home a 16-14 win. When Stetson's excited supporters returned to DeLand they went straight to President Allen's home and awoke him so he could join in the celebration which he did going as far as lighting the celebratory bonfire.

Following the Florida victory another movement started to build a football stadium in DeLand. This time the project was estimated at approximately $100,000. The City of DeLand was to contribute $26,000 and the 6,000 seat venue was to be completed in 1941. Late in the process however, President Allen announced that Stetson, for financial reasons, would cease to participate in intercollegiate sports. Due to finances, as well as World War II the football program was in hiatus from 1941 through 1945. After the war President Allen had football resumed at Stetson.

The last notably successful season for the Stetson football team came in 1951. Head Coach Joe McMullen led the Hatters to an 8-1-2 overall record and a 35-20 victory over Arkansas State in the seasonending Tangerine Bowl. The only blemish on the record that season came at the hands of the Florida

President William Allen (1934-1947)

State Seminoles by a score of 13-10.

The end of football at Stetson came to pass following the 1956 season. The times, as well as students at Stetson had changed. They were still interested in athletics, but not nearly as much as in years past. It was felt that football had to be given up. Most of the schools Stetson had played in the past had abandoned their football programs and the larger schools like Florida had grown large and were too strong to compete against. In Stetson's final season of 1956 other than homecoming no more than 60 reserved seats were sold to the general public. In a January 22, 1957 meeting of trustees the football program was terminated at Stetson.

1956 Team, the last to play football at Stetson.
